O miru govorimo že stoletja, a ga še nikoli nismo povsem izbrali. Ostaja le ideja ali kratka praksa. Svet pa še vedno obvladujeta sovraštvo in sebičnost.

Mi, otroci in mladi, pa si želimo varnosti in prihodnosti. Dragi odločevalci, bodite sprememba, ki jo želimo videti v svetu in skupaj delajmo za boljši jutri.

We have been talking about peace for centuries, but we have never quite chosen it. It remains an idea or a brief practice. The world is still dominated by hatered and selfishness. And we, children and young people, want security and a future.

Dear decision-makers, be the change we want to see in the world and let's work together for a better tomorrow.

Vsak lahko naredi nekaj boljšega za ta svet. Pred vsakim dejanjem premislite o njegovih posledicah. Imamo prihodnost. Ni razloga, da je ne bi živeli v vsej polnosti.

Anyone can do something better for this world. Think about the consequences of your actions before you take them. We have a future. There is no reason not to live it to the fullest.

S sočutjem in znanjem
ustvarjamo prijazno, pokončno
in trajnostno naravnano družbo, ki bo gradila miren prihodnost
za vse generacije.

Peace, is universal right, it's the missing puzzel piece our world lacks today. It's something we all should contribute to each that helps to make a world a better place. Peace start within once heart, that could change the world, for you for me and the entire human race.

Peace isn't an independent cause it requires the unity of all nations.

To the decision makers of Slovenia,

We are high school students from Japan.
We dream of a world without war, fear, or discrimination.
We want children everywhere to grow up safely, with schools, food, and homes.

We also hope that people will care more for the Earth — protecting nature, using clean energy, and creating a greener future.

Please listen to the voices of young people. The future belongs to us, but it also belongs to you.
Let us work together for peace.

Sincerely,
High school students from Japan.

To the decision makers of Slovenia.
I am a student from Japan, wishing for peace.
Even the short conflict of 1991 brought pain, yet Slovenia chose independence and peace.
Peace is the responsibility of both the young and adults. Leaders must protect what has been built, while young people must learn from history and speak for the future.

Let us work together — across generations — so that all people can live without fear and care for our shared planet.

Sincerely,
A Student from Japan.

PEACE for KIDS

LOVE for KIDS

Dear: Friends of the world

No matter the color of our skin, the religion we follow, or the country we come from, we are all human beings living under the same sky. We weren't born to hurt one another. Each of us simply wants to sleep peacefully at night and spend our days with laughter. These are natural hopes – ones that don't change, no matter what we live or what culture we belong to. I may still be young, but I believe the future belongs to my generation. And in order to shape that future, I believe it's important that our voices reach the adults, who are making decisions today. Let's choose dialogue instead of conflict. Let's choose words instead of weapons. This is the kind of world I dream of.

To the adults reading this notebook. Please, take a moment to pause and think about the world as it is today. and the future we are creating together. Please think with us, so that children everywhere can grow up without the fear of war, and with the freedom to dream. I truly hope this notebook touches someone's heart and becomes a step – no matter how small – toward a more peacefull world.

From: Maiko high school students from Japan.
